

Sponsor A Student in Layaye, Haiti

A Full Year of School for $50

In Haiti only 35% of the population over age 15 can read and write. In rural areas the literacy rate is even lower. The parents in our sister parish in Layaye view education as the key to a better future for their children. For $50 you can help ensure their future and pay for a full year of primary school for one child in Layaye.

Who are the children?

- The children live in or around Layaye, Haiti where our sister parish, Notre Dame d'Altagrâce is located. These children generally live with one or both parents and several siblings. Their homes are mostly small one or two-room mud or concrete block homes, with tin or thatch roofs and dirt floors – with no electricity or running water. The children are eager and capable but have lives with few resources or opportunities.

How does sponsorship work?

What else can I do to support education in Layaye?

- Young adults in the parish also need your support. Information about how you can support their education is provided on the sponsorship form included on the next page.
